Plagiarism and AI Use (e.g. CHATGPT)

The University takes a serious view of any form of plagiarism and AI use. Plagiarism is defined as the unauthorized and unacknowledged use of another person's intellectual efforts, ideas, and creations under one's own name. Students are advised that intellectual efforts, ideas, and creations include books, paintings, music, audiovisual works, and any other format in which intellectual work may be expressed. Unacknowledged use involves not only word-for-word copying of sentences or paragraphs of another's intellectual efforts, but also large-scale borrowing and repetition of ideas without proper footnoting or acknowledgement of the sources(s) of such borrowing.

If students are in any doubt as to what constitutes plagiarism, they should consult with their Lecturers. It is University policy that students found guilty of plagiarism will be warned on the first occasion and, on any subsequent occasion, will be expelled from the University.
